

Nexi simplifies the receipt of INPS benefits

Thanks to Nexi's collaboration with banks and the INPS, access to the measures of the "Cura Italia" Decree will be easier and faster

Positive impacts for citizens applying for INPS benefits

Milan, 23 April 2020 - Nexi, a leading Italian PayTech firm and digital payments provider, is implementing a solution that allows banks to verify the correctness of bank details communicated to the INPS by citizens for the payment of benefits, thus facilitating the payment process without the need to go to bank branches and or INPS offices.

Thanks to Nexi's collaboration with the INPS and the banks, it is now possible to quickly and digitally manage the measures provided for by the "Cura Italia" decree law, allowing remote verification of the data indicated by citizens for the payment of benefits.

The solution, available to Nexi's more than 150 partner banks, facilitates the management of the applications of citizens who, as a result of the current health emergency, are receiving INPS benefits, such as the redundancy fund or the 600 euros of employment support provided by the Cura Italia decree.

"In the coming weeks, many Italians will apply to the INPS for non-pension benefits," commented Renato Martini, Digital Banking Solutions Director at Nexi.

"In order to allow banks to better manage the emergency, within a few weeks of the decree being issued, we have developed a new solution that allows them to speed up and simplify the payment process for millions of citizens."

For Nexi the solution is a further step towards the digitalisation of payments in Italy – always the primary objective of PayTech for banks, and now, in view of the current emergency situation, even more a priority for the whole country.
